

Writer

Atlanta Green

Julia Mills
Lead Agent

+44 (0) 20 7632 5284

julia@berlinassociates.com

Bio

Atlanta Green is a Black British screenwriter and playwright of Jamaican origin from South West London who is part of the BBC Comedy Writers Room 20/21 Cohort. Atlanta was listed in 2019 as one of 30 influential black creatives under 30 years old to look out for, as part of The British Blacklist curated by Guap Magazine and sponsored by Nike.

In 2019 she wrote OI PUSSY a 3 part comedy for BBC iPlayer (Big Deal Films) and in 2021 she wrote a teen monologue, IS THE CAMERA ON? (CBBC/Channel X).

Atlanta has a particular interest in diverse stories and finding the humour and silver lining in the mundane realities around us. She has shown theatrical pieces at various theatres including Theatre 503, The Courtyard, Stratford Royal Theatre East and The Hen & Chicken Theatre amongst other venues.

Atlanta has written on NOVA JONES (Jam Media / CBBC), JOJO AND GRAN GRAN (BBC), SUPERTATO (BBC), and she is currently developing an original sitcom with DLT Entertainment.