Bio

Somewhere between eating rotten shark meat for Discovery Channel, being affectionately nicknamed “Big Balls” by a celebrity chef and accidentally putting a tripod through the glass table of an ex-Love Islander, Dave realised a career as a Factual and Entertainment Director probably wasn’t his calling in life. Luckily, comedy writing became a cathartic outlet for his experiences and unbridled rage. Dave has written a mental health dark comedy series called SMILE LIKE YOU MEAN IT and a dark comedy about influencers taking over the world called INFLUENCZA and with his writing partner, Racha Sobratee, has projects in various stages of paid development with Firebird Pictures, Hat Trick, Sky Studios, West Road Pictures and Cosmopolitan Pictures.
