Bio

Jessica is a Line Producer and Production Manager with over 20 years' experience working in television and film. She was formally a music video and documentary Producer and has used her extensive practical production skills to focus fully on scripted projects. Jessica is adept at working with both high profile artists and emerging creative talent. She works well within larger crews and confidently leads smaller ones. Jessica's negotiation and management skills, alongside her sharp problem-solving abilities, have propelled her career restart.
